

INTERNATIONAL TRANSLATION DAY
THURSDAY 30 SEPTEMBER

FLOW “THE FREEWORD”
FESTIVAL
14 SEP – 5 OCT 2010

EXPLORING THE FLOW OF IDEAS
www.freewordonline.com/flow

SEMINAR PROGRAMME

9.30am – 4.30pm

International Translation Day / English PEN, Dalkey Archive Press, Free Word and the London Book Fair's Literary Translation Centre / Lecture Theatre / Tickets: Full day entry £20 / £10 concessions, including light lunch and refreshments / A day-long symposium to celebrate literary translation, network and share ideas.

Languages in Education / 10am / How can we inspire young people with a love of languages? Sarah Ardizzone, Teresa Tinsley and Professor Michael Kelly identify the best in modern language teaching, and ask how we can bring language and translation to the forefront of education policy.

Training for the Future / 11.20am / Maureen Freely, Elin Haf Jones, Nicky Harman, Philip Wilson and Martin Sorrell discuss the practical challenges of moving from the academic study of translation into professional employment. How can we improve conditions and increase opportunities for young translators?

Live Translation Slam / 1pm / Renowned translators Margaret Jull Costa and Nick Caistor go head-to-head, independently translating a Spanish text before coming together to debate their different English language versions in front of a live audience. Chaired by Amanda Hopkinson.

Getting it Out There / 2pm / Translated literature is entering the mainstream but there are still many obstacles facing its advocates. Can we develop the market even further? Boyd Tonkin, Simon Winder, Fergal Tobin, Mireille Berman and Mark Thwaite contribute to a discussion led by Martin Riker.

The Future of Funding / 3.20pm / Literary translation depends heavily on the support of trusts and foundations. What is the best funding model – and what does the future hold? Alexandra Buchler, Kirsty Dunseath, Charles Beckett and Laurenz Bolliger share ideas with Shreela Ghosh.

5pm

AT HOME IN A STRANGE LAND: Exploring Children's Books / Booktrust / Lecture Theatre / Tickets: Free, but booking essential / International panel chaired by Sarah Ardizzone to launch Children's Book Week: Axel Scheffler, Klaus Flugge, Christine Baker and Lucy Bakewell.

7.30pm

Harvill Secker Young Translator's Prize / 7.30pm / Free Word and Harvill Secker / Lecture Theatre / Tickets: £6 / £3 concessions / Authors AS Byatt, Nicholas Shakespeare and Margaret Jull Costa in a panel discussion to celebrate the winner of Harvill Secker's prestigious new prize for young translators.

BOOKING INFORMATION

To book tickets for these events please either visit our website, call us or come to the centre in person between 9am and 9pm Monday to Friday.

www.freewordonline.com/flow

Tel: 020 7324 2570

Free Word Centre
60 Farringdon Road
London EC1R 3GA

Concessionary rates are available to children under 16, students, adults receiving benefits, adults with disabilities and seniors. Please bring proof of eligibility to an event for which you have bought a concessionary ticket. Please note there is a 50p booking fee for online transactions.